Directions for Remote Learning: 10th Grade

We hope everyone and their families are staying safe, healthy, and well during this time.

Your teachers are all here to support you -- please contact us via email, Google Classroom, or Remind if you ever need anything.

Every day, students should do the following:

1. Log in to your Advisory Google Classroom. Check the Week at a Glance document. This shows the assignments in each class for the week.
2. Then, check the Remote Learning Schedule. This shows all teachers' office hours and all live events students can attend to connect with their teachers and classmates.
3. Next, complete the Beginning of Day Check In form in your Advisory Google Classroom.
4. Now, begin work! Go to your teachers' Google Classroom pages to find the assignments that are listed on the Week at a Glance. Use the Remote Learning Schedule to attend any optional live sessions that you are interested in.
5. At the end of your day (when you are finished working or before bed): log on to your Advisory Google Classroom and complete the End of Day Check Out form.
6. Repeat these steps Monday through Friday. On Sunday night, we will post a new Week at a Glance and an updated schedule for the next week.

The last page of this document is a Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) page. Check it out to get your questions answered!

If you need help or have any other questions, please reach out to your advisor or any of your teachers. You can attend any teachers' office hours to ask them questions, get help with assignments, or just say hi-- click the link with their name on the Remote Learning Schedule.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Q: Where can we find our assignments?

A: All assignments are posted on your teachers' Google Classroom, unless otherwise noted. You can review the Week at a Glance to see a list of all of those assignments, but you must go to the individual teacher's Google Classroom to complete your work.

Q: Are our classes live? What is our schedule?

A: The 10th grade team will not be holding mandatory "live" classes. Your assignments will be posted starting on Monday via Google Classroom. You will complete those assignments independently at your own pace, and they will be due by the end of Friday.

We have a Remote Learning Schedule which shows all of your teachers' office hours as well as other live opportunities to interact with your teachers and classmates (such as Netflix Party, Instagram Live, circle). All of the events on the Remote Learning Schedule are optional, but are highly encouraged for you to stay engaged with the learning.

Q: What are "office hours"?

A: Office hours are a time when you can meet with each of your teachers to ask questions and get help on assignments -- or just say hi! They will take place on Google Meet, which enables you to video and/or audio chat with your teacher. You can access these office hours by clicking on your teacher's name on the Remote Learning Schedule. Office hours are NOT mandatory and you will not miss any new content if you cannot attend.

Q: What is the Check In/Check Out?

A: The Check In/Check Out forms help your advisor support you with what you need. Every day, when you first log on to do work, you will complete the Beginning of Day Check In. This will let your advisor know that you have logged on and what your goals are for the day. At the end of your day, when you are finished working or before you go to bed, you will complete the End of Day Check Out. This will let your advisor know what you accomplished that day and what you still need help with.

Q: Do we only do assignments for our Advisor or do we do assignments for all of our classes?

A: You should do your assignments for ALL of your classes. The purpose of the Advisory Google Classroom is to help your advisor best support you in completing the rest of your work. You should still be doing all of your other assignments in each of your classes' Google Classroom pages.

Q: There are so many assignments. I'm overwhelmed figuring out what to do.

A: We know what the Week at a Glance might seem overwhelming. Remember that these are your assignments for the whole week; you do not need to finish them all in one day. You should work with your advisor to create a plan for how to keep yourself organized.

Q: Is this work getting graded? Do we have to do it?

A: For work assigned during Remote Learning, you will receive feedback and grades on all of your assignments. However, the grade will only be entered into Aspen if it helps your grade. If it does not help your grade or you do not complete an assignment, you will receive an "incomplete."

Q: I'm still confused. Who should I talk to?

A: Please reach out to your advisor! They will be reaching out weekly to check in and answer any questions, but please feel free to reach out to them at any time you have a question or need help.
